Troops in Arizona.

Governor McCormick has addressed the following letter to the Arizona Miner:

San Francisco, Dec. 28, 1866.

Editor Arizona Miner:—Through the columns of the Miner, I am glad to inform the people of Arizona that, in view of the urgent need of more troops in the Territory, Generals Halleck and McDowell have this day agreed to the following new arrangements:

1st. To furnish two companies of the new 8th Regular Cavalry, one of which will probably be stationed at Camp Lincoln for scouting east of the Verde, and one kept upon the mail (Mohave) road until the Mohaves and the Pi-Utes are quiet.

2d. To furnish two companies of infantry (14th Regular Regiment) for duty about Prescott, Wickenburg, the La Paz and Tucson roads, or wherever most needed.

All of these companies to be sent forward at the earliest practicable moment. The infantry is expected here from the east the 15th of January.

In addition to the foregoing an order has been issued requiring that all the men at Fort Whipple, beyond twenty, shall immediately be put on the Mohave road for the protection of mails and trains; and that all the available men at Skull Valley shall be kept on the La Paz road to protect it, as far as possible.

Further, it is promised that at an early day the companies of the 14th Regiment shall be filled, which will make a large addition to the force in the Territory.

Colonel Crittenden (late Major General in the east), has arrived here, and will proceed to command his regiment, the 23d regular, made from a battalion of the 13th, with headquarters at Tucson. Colonel Lovell will take command at Fort Yuma.

Fort Grant, lately abandoned, will be re-established for the protection of the settlers on the San Pedro. Half the company ordered to El Dorado Canyon will go to Callville.

These arrangements will, I trust, be satisfactory to the people, with the additional assurance, which I have received, that from Camp Lincoln, Fort McDowell, and posts in Pima county, a steady war will be made upon the Apaches.

I have been kindly received by the military authorities and citizens here, and find a general and growing interest in the Territory. More troops would be furnished if the aggregate force supplied this coast would admit. As it is Arizona has about one-half of all, or as many as California, Nevada, Oregon and Idaho combined. General McDowell expects good results from his division of Arizona into several districts, whereby responsibility is more directly fixed than heretofore, and reports from every quarter are to be made to him. Both he and General Halleck state that it is their desire to have all the troops in the Territory actively engaged in aggressive movements against the Indians, and are loud in their praise of Colonel Sanford for his recent expeditions, and hope the officers generally will exhibit similar enterprise and enthusiasm.

I propose leaving here about the middle of January and going to Tucson, via Los Angeles and Fort Yuma. Hope to reach Prescott some time in March.

The Miner, of the 9th ult., also has the following items of Arizona:

About one week since it became known to a few of our people that a new discovery of gold placer and quartz mines had been made east of Silver Mountain, on Oak Creek which drains the south side of Bradshaw Mountain some sixty miles south of Prescott. A sudden and unprecedented demand for horses seemed to be the first manifestation, which was soon followed by requisitions upon our prosperous and liberal merchants for flour, bacon, coffee, sugar, and a few—beans. Then the thing was out—everybody knew "what's the matter now;" and away they went, and are still going, until our devoted town seems deserted.

The evidences of a rich and extensive mining region, heretofore unknown, to be called the Agua Frio District, are abundant. We hear but one opinion—one belief—expressed. And we have only to say to the enterprising prospectors, may you all "strike it rich."

A party of four citizens, consisting of L. St. James, A. Wertheimer, E. A. Bentley, of Prescott, and Mr. Henry Colquette from Tennessee, left Skull Valley a few days since to pass over the lower trail through Wearer's Gap, which they reached about noon. At a point near the summit of the mountain they were attacked by some twenty or thirty Indians, supposed to be Wallapais, and all except Wertheimer were wounded by arrows, although several shots were fired from guns by the murderous wretches. Two horses were crippled and captured from our party, but all escaped by a hasty retreat down the mountain. St. James was slightly wounded just above the knee—Mr. Colquette had his skull fractured and received a severe wound near the pit of his stomach. Bently was slightly wounded, though several times hit. All returned to Skull Valley, though the last few miles required an ambulance, promptly furnished by Captain Weir, to enable Mr. Colquette to reach the hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Merriam, post surgeon.

As soon as Captain Weir, in command at Skull Valley, heard of the affair, he made preparations for a pursuit, and started the same evening with ten men of his company and Dr. Merriam, in hopes of overtaking and punishing the savages. On reaching Weaver's Gap the next morning, they found the ground covered with Indian tracks and fragments of arrows. Two breastworks of rocks had been thrown up, commanding the entrance to the Gap, from which they dealt their murderous fire. The Captain struck their trail which led over the mountain to the west and towards the Tonto Springs on the main road. As the trail could not be followed with animals, the mountain being precipitous and rocky, the Captain kept on to Prescott, with the intention of returning by the main road and again striking their trail, if possible.

Colonel T. L. Crittenden, who will take command at Tucson, is a son of the distinguished John J. Crittenden, of Kentucky, and served during the war with the volunteer army of the West, in which he became a major general. He is now Colonel of the 23d Regular Infantry. He will be accompanied to the Territory by his wife and son, and by two companies of the 23d.

RICH ROCK FROM WALKER.—In Carson, day before yesterday, we met Mr. Wheeler, just in from Wilson's District, Walker river, who showed us some specimens of ore from there, perfectly lousy with free gold. He spoke in very high terms of the prospects in that quarter.—Enterprise, 1st inst.

The Storms—East and West.

A more than ordinarily thoughtful natural philosopher once said that it was "very strange that cold weather mostly comes in winter." That may be so, but we begin to think it is a little odder to have wintry weather when blushing spring should be opening the petals of plants and "wearing of the green." The country just now is seemingly paying the penalty of the warm sunshine and balmy days which shone upon us through December and January. On every hand we hear of the tremendous storms which have visited the land during the past few weeks. In the far East, among the timbers of Maine, and throughout New England and the Middle States, unusual storms have prevailed. In New York City the Gothamites woke up one morning to find themselves almost snowed in. Traffic in the streets was awhile suspended, and everybody went to work with a will—and a shovel. The railroad men pitched the snow right and left, and the householder cleared the sidewalk, so that when the street cars finally moved they traveled through great snow banks on either side, obscured from the view of sidewalk pedestrians. Such a sight was never before seen in that saintly city.

At last accounts, the cars on the Pacific Railway were snowed in somewhere between Omaha and Kearny, and the mails detained. On the West the trouble is even greater, and the storms more severe. No coaches, sleds, or mails have been able to pass the Sierra Nevadas by any of the routes of travel for upwards of two weeks. Passengers by Wells, Fargo & Co.'s stages, westward bound, are piling up at Virginia and Carson cities, hopeful, yet dubious, as to their further progress for a time. Where the eastward bound voyageurs are, we cannot say; whether at Sacramento, Alta, Cisco, Placerville, or dumped coolly in a snow bank. Deep snows obstruct every avenue through the Sierras, and there is said to be a combination of land slides, snow slides, washing away, etc., unparalleled in the history of stage coach navigation. At Meadow Lake Valley the snow is said to be twenty-two feet deep on a level, and where it has drifted, the imagination is left to conjecture the depth. If the folks there have four story houses, the view from the first story from the roof must be enchanting and exhilarating; if they dwell in one story huts, we suspect snow shoes are in demand. Such a storm as has visited the Sierras recently has not before been known by the oldest inhabitant. The railroad and stage men, we learn, are making gigantic efforts to clear the track and open up communication between Nevada and California; but just when their efforts will be crowned with a glorious success nobody knows, while everybody cares.

The subject of the Great Snow Storm engrosses all attention in Nevada; everybody talks, and all the newspapers write about it, to the exclusion of every other topic—Utah, Annexation, Gold, Silver, Reconstruction and politics. As an evidence of this, we note in a single issue of the Gold Hill News of Feb. 23, there are no less than nine separate and distinct items about and concerning the snow and the storms, all in one column. The weather is a prolific theme generally, but seems to have been a perfect God-send to the "locals" of our Nevada contemporaries since the snowy flakes began to descend.

It is greatly to be hoped that we have now seen the last of Old Winter; though some folks think it has but just commenced. March is a blustery, uncertain month, even though almanac makers claim it as pertaining to the spring season. But as we do not affect the weather-wise, we refrain from any attempt at prophecy in this regard, but patiently await the next caprice of that important individual, yclept, the Clerk of the Weather.

BAD ROADS.—The following from the Daily Trespass of the 27th ult., will convey some idea of the roads west of here:

From a dispatch received from John J. Valentine, special agent for Wells, Fargo & Co., we learn that last night he made Friday's station, on the shore of Lake Bigler, a distance of four miles, during the entire day. He will persevere on his travels, and at the current rate of traveling, will, possibly, reach Placerville some time next week. The snow is so deep that as fast as the roads are broken the drifting snow fills up the track and undoes the work accomplished.

Through Billy Crandall, agent for the Pioneer stage company, we learn that passengers who left this city a week ago last Monday, arrived at Cisco—the terminus of the Central Pacific railroad—this morning, and left for Emigrant Gap on coaches, the road having been opened to that place. Beyond, and to Alta, all is unknown as to the road, and it may be many days before connection with the Sacramento trains can be made. It is said to be doubtful whether we shall be able to receive either mail or express this week—certainly not before Saturday.

DEPTH OF THE SNOW.—On the second summit, Placerville route, ten feet of new snow has fallen—in all the depth at that point is therefore about sixteen feet. Beyond Mack's station—which is five miles beyond Friday's—no one has gone except upon snow shoes. Hank Abbot, the driver who came in yesterday, left Friday's day before yesterday in the morning with four horses attached to the forward "bob" of a "pair of bobs," and after bobbing in this way to Boff's—should have been Bob's—got enough of the fun, and thence to Van Sickles' took it on horseback—or rather drove the horses before him, wallowing through snow nearly breast deep, and ploughing his nose in the snow at every plunge of the horses. From Van Sickles' he came with a coach to Carson City, where he arrived night before last, and yesterday came on to this city. Stage driving is just now a gay old business, but be we don't want to buy in.—Virginia Enterprise.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

Washington, March 6.

Official proclamation is made through the Department of State, to-day, of the enactment of a law providing for the more efficient government of the Rebel States, and the mode of registering and the manner of voting in civil cases.

In the Senate, Conkling introduced a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Interior to communicate a copy of the report of Brigadier General Simpson on the Pacific Railroad and its branches. Adopted.

Sherman called up the resolution from the House for the appointment of a joint committee of three Senators and three Representatives, to revise and fix the pay of the officers of the two Houses. Resolution agreed to.

Doolittle, on a question of privilege, referred to the report of an investigating committee of the last House, which charged him with having received $5,000 from Mr. Smythe, Collector of New York. He characterized it as absolutely and unqualifiedly false, a cowardly slander, and said that in not a single instance during his Senatorial career, where his recommendation had been sought and obtained, had a pecuniary consideration of the value of one cent been expected or received, directly or indirectly.

Patterson, also charged in the committee's report with receiving money from the same party, said: "All I have to say is, it is false. False in its charges; false in its intentions; false in its innuendoes. I never received a cent from Mr. Smythe. If the Senate will permit me to say so, I will say it is as false as hell!"

Harlan introduced a bill for the admission of Colorado; also, gave notice of a bill for the construction of a military and freight railroad from the Mississippi river to the Atlantic coast.

Sumner introduced a bill to provide a republican form of government for the States lately in rebellion. It provides for the establishment of civil governments therein on the basis of loyal voters. It was ordered to be printed, and to lie on the table until the formation of the Committees.

Sumner introduced a bill prescribing the form of oath to be required from residents of the States lately in rebellion. It prescribes that every person in such States, except Tennessee, as were lately declared to be in rebellion shall, before being allowed to vote or hold office, make oath or affirmation that he will maintain a republican form of government in the State of which he is an inhabitant, and in the United States will recognize the indissoluble nature of the Republic, and that he will discountenance all efforts of any State to secede or break away from the Union. That he will give his influence to sustain the National currency, and will discountenance the repudiation of the war debt of the United States, and the payment of the Rebel debt, or of any claim for the loss of slaves. That he will resist all laws making distinction on account of race or color. That he will give his support to education and the diffusion of knowledge in public schools, open to all and any person. Anyone taking such oath falsely shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and subject to the usual penalties, and shall be rendered incapable of holding office. Ordered on the table until Committees are appointed.

Harlan introduced a bill to consolidate the Southern and Central Indian Superintendencies, and certain Indian Agencies, and to create an Indian Superintendency for the Territory of Idaho. Ordered printed.

Wilson introduced the following joint resolution, which was ordered printed:

WHEREAS, The municipal officers of the city of Alexandria have refused to obey and execute the laws of the United States; therefore be it

Resolved, That the municipal offices of that city be and are hereby declared vacated, and any persons exercising the authority of said offices shall, on conviction, be imprisoned not less than one year, and pay a fine of not less than $100.

Senate adjourned.

In the House, Thomas presented the petition of J. J. Stewart, contesting the seat of Phelps, of Maryland. Referred to Committee on Elections.

Several resolutions were offered which lie over.

Moorhead offered a resolution referring the Tariff bill of the 39th Congress, with pending amendments, to the Committee of Ways and Means, when appointed, but without action the House adjourned.

New York, March 6.

The Herald publishes a circular from Secretary Seward, dated December last, inviting Spain and the South American Republics to unite in a Peace Conference at Washington, April 1st, and suggesting that the President of the United States be authorized to appoint some neutral Power as umpire for the arrangement of differences respecting international laws and courtesies, without, however, interfering with any terms agreed upon between the interested Powers. It is understood the Chilian Government will confer with her allies before accepting the proposition, but it is probable it will finally be accepted.

Charleston, S. C., March 6.

The steamer Manhattan has arrived with the officers and a portion of the passengers and crew of the steamer Andalusia, from New York for Charleston, burned off Hatteras on Sunday evening. A number of persons are missing and supposed lost. The vessel and cargo are a total loss.

Washington, March 6.

Several private conferences of Union members of the House have been held to-day, at one of which Generals Logan and Butler advocated, it is said, the appointment of a special committee to pursue the impeachment of the President.

The Ohio delegation had a conference to-day, but the subject of their deliberations is not known.

The New York delegation, in conference, recommended that the impeachment question be referred to a special committee, to be composed of the seven members of the late Judiciary Committee who have been returned to the present House.

The views of these several parties will be presented in the House caucus to-night, at which it will be determined whether the Standing Committees shall be now appointed, or after the election of members from the unrepresented loyal States. It is probable the appointment of Committees will be postponed, excepting one specially entrusted with the impeachment matter.

New York, March 7.

A Times special says Genls. Sherman, Meade, Hancock, McDowell, and Schofield will be commanders of five districts of the Southern states, under the Military Government bill.

A Herald special says the President and Cabinet and Gen. Grant are very busy preparing to put the military reconstruction law in force. This correspondent is reliably informed that Genls Thomas, Sheridan, Sickles, Schofield, and Ord will be district commanders.

The Herald's Georgia correspondent says that a strong party is organizing the principles contained in Gov. Brown's recent letter favoring the acceptance of Sherman's military reconstruction plan, has sprung up, and bids fair to be the controlling party in the State.

The money market is tighter than ever known before.

The Herald's Dublin and Cork correspondences, of the 21st ultimo, gives special reports of the political situation existing in the south part of Ireland subsequently to the dispersion of the Fenian insurgents in Kerry county. No arrests had been made, and the country remained evidently in a state of very unhealthy excitement. Ten thousand troops were held ready to be launched against any spot where treason may again show itself in arms. Jas. Stephens is said to have landed at Dingle Bay, and gone to the interior. The Government is prepared to continue operations against any show of active sympathy with the Fenians in England.

It is asserted, that the Cabinet has good reason, by reliable information, to fear trouble at Woolwich, if not an attack on the navy yard.

Earl Carnarvon, in moving a second reading of the bill for the confederation of the British North American colonies, made one of the most important speeches to the House of Lords which has been delivered to Parliament for many years. In his capacity of Colonial Secretary he went minutely into the details of the measure, and combatted the objections raised against it. Speaking of the future of the Kingdom of Canada, Lord Carnarvon said the Territory would become greater than England, and second only to Russia.

The World's special says the Internal Revenue Bureau to-day issued instructions for immediate assessments for income tax, as required by the law passed last Saturday. The time of assessment is changed from May to March, and the uniform rate of five per cent. fixed on all incomes with one thousand dollars exempt. Assessors are required to go to work at once.

The Government and defence are ready to proceed with the trial of Surratt, and will probably commence Monday next.

A World special says the name of Colonel A. M. Wood, of Brooklyn, was yesterday sent to the Senate for naval officer of New York.

Washington, March 7.

The Republicans of the House held a caucus last evening at the Capitol; about 120 members were present. General Banks presided.

Ashley offered a resolution, directing the Judiciary Committee, when appointed, to continue the investigation into the charges preferred against the President; to sit during the session of the House or any recess. Covode offered an amendment, providing a special commission; this was voted down by an overwhelming majority, and a motion to refer to the Judiciary Committee was adopted without opposition.

Stevens moved that when Congress adjourn it adjourn to the 8th of May.

Wilson, of Iowa, moved to amend by inserting the 20th of October. He thought the investigation a very grave one, requiring time, and that it was especially important that all the States entitled to representation should be present to vote on the articles of impeachment, if that question should be presented. These States would be absent in May.

Shellabarger thought there was much gravity in this point, but it was not of pressing importance, in view of the fact, that the Senate, which is the body to try impeachments, is full. It was not so important that the House, in merely presenting articles of impeachment, should have every State present.

Blaine inquired of Shellabarger how it would be in case the articles of impeachment would be carried in the House by a majority less than the number of members to which the absent States were entitled.

Shellabarger said it would not affect the validity of the action of the House.

Gen. Butler said that the postponement till autumn was simply to abandon the whole idea.

Wilson's motion was lost, on a call for the yeas and nays—37 against 80.

Stevens' motion, that when the House adjourned it be till the 8th of May, was adopted without opposition.

Allison, of Iowa, offered a resolution that it was not expedient for this Congress to adjourn for more than three days at any one time until the question of impeachment was disposed of. Disagreed to.

Pomeroy, of New York, then moved that Congress take a recess on Monday next until the 8th day of May. This was decided, on a call of yeas and nays, in the affirmative—57 against 54—3 majority.

Resolutions to carry out the intentions of the caucus will be introduced in the House to-morrow.

Valentia, March 6.

The wires through Ireland are down in consequence of storms. No dispatches.

FROM THE WEST.

In the absence of our mails from California, we clip from the Nevada papers the following items. The dispatches to the Enterprise, from San Francisco, dated February 27th and 28th, are as follows:

Greenbacks quiet at 73 buying, and at 73¼ selling.

The steamer Idaho was on fire this afternoon, but the Fire Department soon extinguished it, but not before some damage was done to the freight.

John Mahon has been arrested on a charge of stealing $1,000 from his employer, A. Numan, a grocer.

The ship Alice Bell arrived here last evening, 31 days from Yokohoma, bringing later news from Japan. The burnt district of Yeddo had been cleared and new buildings were being erected. A Japanese embassy, consisting of five persons, will proceed to Washington by the Colorado on her return trip to San Francisco. The Colorado was expected to sail from there the 15th of February.

Eugene Sweeney, a youth of 17, died from apoplexy produced by over exertion in jumping and playing base ball near this city last Sunday.

The committee appointed at a previous meeting to aid immigration to this State, reported a plan of operations at the meeting held at Cobb & Sinton's last evening. They propose to organize a company with a capital of $5,000,000. There will be a public meeting next Tuesday at Platt's Hall to discuss the subject further.

Judge Dewey in the United States Circuit Court to-day, granted an injunction in favor of the San Francisco photographers against Robinson and others, restraining them from the use of the bromine process. This decision affects all the photographers on this coast.

The Pacific Mail steamship Herman sails to-morrow for Yokohoma, Japan, there to remain as a relief ship.

The Montana sailed for Panama this afternoon with 165 passengers and $750,706.28 in treasure.

Ned Wellington, alias "Indian Ned," indicted some months ago for a short-card conspiracy, was surrendered by his bondsmen yesterday.

Mark Solomons, a second-hand clothier, has been held by Judge Rix to answer to the charge of perjury.

The Land Office of this District received $39,000 in payment of lands during the present month, being a larger sum than was ever received before in any Land Office on this coast in a single month.

Henry Hammel was fined $50 in the Police Court to-day for assaulting Rev. Father Gallagher.

The United States steamer Suwanee arrived from Manzillan last night. J. Ross Browne came up a passenger. He is very much disgusted with the Lower California immigration scheme.

The passengers who came on the Orizaba from San Pedro report rich gold discoveries in the interior of Arizona.

The Trespass of the 27th has the following from San Francisco of the same date:

By the arrival of the ship Reindeer, yesterday, from Hong Kong, we have dates to January 12th.

The Hotel Company of Hong Kong has commenced to move in the matter of fitting up a hotel, in American style, for passengers. The building is expected to be completed and ready for the reception of guests by the 4th of July. The expected advent of the China line of steamers from San Francisco seems to have been the primary cause of the enterprise.

The United States frigate Shenandoah had left Calcutta for China, and was expected at Hong Kong in a few days.

The Japan Herald of December 14th says:

Our fires in Yokohama sink into insignificance when we hear of such as have been rife in Leddo during the past fortnight. We have not information sufficient to enable us to give the details, but of the fire that raged on Sunday, we are told four miles of houses were destroyed in the commercial quarter of the city. Little doubt is entertained of its having been the work of incendiaries. At last accounts the fire was raging about five miles from the English Legation buildings, and as the wind has changed unfavorably, they can not be said to be out of danger.

A. J. Tice attempted to commit suicide on Monday, by jumping into the bay. He was rescued and taken to the station house, and will be examined by the Commissioners of Lunacy concerning his mental condition.

George Mann, and 99 others, passengers on the British ship Nimrod, have commenced a suit in the U. S. District Court, against the vessel, to recover dameges, amounting, in the aggregate, to $25,000, for an alleged breach of passenger contract, in not having supplied them with good and sufficient provisions during a recent voyage from Sydney to this port.

It is said that the cargo of the David Crockett, hence, consisting of about 2,000 tons of wheat, was sold in Philadelphia at an average of $3.25 per bushel, and that it netted the parties interested about $70,000 (in currency) profit.

John W. Farmer has commenced a suit against Dr. J. P. Bryant, to recover $30,000 damages, for alleged malpractice, by which plaintiff's eyesight was utterly destroyed, and he otherwise injured. Plaintiff alleges that he was suffering from diseased eyes, and was nearly blind for some two months; that he consulted Dr. Bryant, who represented himself as a skillful and experienced physician, and stated that he could cure plaintiff's disease in twenty days, and that at the end of one week, under Dr. Bryant's treatment, he became totally blind. Plaintiff also avers, that, as part of Dr. Bryant's treatment, he ordered plaintiff to have four of his teeth extracted—the same being sound and healthy—and that said teeth were extracted accordingly. The defendant is the doctor who professes to cure disease "by the laying on of hands."

Richard Cox, of Georgetown, D. C., a rebel pardoned last fall, and whose property was restored to him by Executive order, in December, commenced a suit against Mrs. Stanton, Mrs. Wade, Mrs. Senator Pomeroy, and other ladies connected with the Home for Colored Orphans and Aged Women, for the use and abuse of his house without his consent. He sues for $10,000.

BEARS threaten to take St. Louis. Not long ago four were killed in one day, and by one man, within seventeen miles of that city; and a few days after a very large one was killed in the tenth ward of the city.

THE price of newspaper composition in Cincinnati has been reduced from 55 to 50c. per 1,000 ems, the printers acquiescing.

THE St. Joseph Herald says the mud in that city, by actual measurement, is three feet deep!

The excitement in regard to the Salmon River mines appears to be as great as ever—or rather on the increase. Several mule teams have left our city lately, and cayuses, handsleds, etc., are in daily demand—all bound for Salmon. The trail is being opened, and next season will undoubtedly witness a lively camp at Salmon. The diggings are very extensive and reported "very rich."

Dr. Samuel Warren, author of "Ten Thousand a Year," recently wrote a letter to the Mayor of Hull, England, to say that before leaving for London he desired to make a suggestion to the housekeepers of the town. The suggestion was this: "To economize the burning of coal, send for an ironmonger or blacksmith, and order him to take the measure of the bottom of your grate and make you a sheet-iron plate of about one-sixth of an inch in thickness, or even less. Simply lay this, and light your fire as usual It will soon burn up, but you must keep pretty open the lowest bar, so as to secure a slight draught. When the fire has begun to burn poke it gently from beneath and the flame will gradually get through the entire mass of coals, the iron plate beneath gets red hot, and so keep up a constant combustion, at the same time dispersing the heat through the room, instead of its being sent up the chimney, thus entirely consuming the coal, instead of filling the hearth with ashes."

Dr. Warren continues:

"In my own house I tried the experiment for a week in the breakfast-room, then in the dining-room, then in the kitchen, with uniform and complete success; and then I had the sheet-iron plate put into every fireplace—and there are many throughout the house—with equal success. So I do with the fireplace in my official residence. When the fire is once made up, say about 10 a. m., for the day, an occasional poke and possibly a single replenishment suffices for the day. In my own ease, and also at the hotel here, where three scuttles were required, one now suffices. You must not smile at the simplicity of my suggestion, but contribute my offering to a sincere desire to contribute what little is in my power to promote the comfort of and lessen expense to every householder in the good old town of Hull."

A citizen of Hull who has since tried this plan writes: "The result in my house, where I have had quarter-inch iron plates fitted at the bottom of two fire-grates, at an expense of two shillings each, is a saving in coal of about one-third, with a considerable increase in heat. A large number of persons have already satisfactorily tried the experiment, and the use of plates is likely to become general in this locality."

The cost of the experiment is a mere trifle.

AN ESSAY ON CATS, BY JOSH BILLINGS.

I hav studdyed cats clussly for years, and hav found them adikted tew a wild state. Tha haint got affecshun, nor virtur of enny kind; tha will skratch their best friends, and wont ketch mice unless tha are hungry. It haz bin sed that tha are good to make up into sassages, but this is a grate mistake. I hav bin told by a sassage maker tha don't kompare with dogs. There is one thing sartin, tha are very anxious tew live. Yu ma turn one inside out, and hang him up by the tail, and az soon az you are out ov sight he will manage to turn a back somerset and cum around awl rite in a fu days. It iz very had work to looze a cat. If one gets carried oph in a bag bi mistake a grate ways into the kuntry it wont sta lost onla a short time, but soon appear tew make the family happy with its presence. Old maids are very fond ov cats, for the reason, I suppose, that cats don't marry if tha hav ever so good a chance. There iz one thing about cats I don't like: if you step on their tales by acksident they git mad rite oph, and make a grate fuss about it. There iz anuther thing abont them which makes them a good investment for poor folks. A pair ov cats will yield each year, without any outlay, something like eight hundred per cent.

It iz a very singular fack that cats don't like a mill pond; I never knu one tew git drowned by acksident. They luv cream, but it seems tew be agin their relidgin tew tech soap. Cats and dogs hav never been able tew agree on the main question; tha both seem to want the affirmatiff side tew onst. I thi k if I could hav mi wa thare wouldn't be enny more cats born unless tha culd sho a certificate ov good moral karakter. There iz one thing more about cats which seems tew me tew be all affecktashun, and that iz making sich a confounded noise under a fellar's winder o'nights, ank then call it musik. If I was to hav mi choice between a cat and a striped snake, I wud prefur the snake, bekase I could git rid ov the snake by letting him go. There haint no sartin wa to kill a cat. If you make one into sassge an' yu think yu are all rite, jist as likeli az no it will cum to and take off a whole lot of good sassages with it. These are mi views about cats, rather hastily hove together, and ef I aint sed enuff agin them, it iz paly bekase I lack the information.

THE following colloquy occurred between two ladies:

"Jane, do you believe that students draw girls up to their rooms?"

"Certainly, my dear. More than that—I know they do."

"How?"

"Well, I was going by the college one morning—it was just before light—and I heard a noise in the direction of the college building. I looked that way, and as I see you now, I saw a girl in a basket about half way from a third story window to the gaound, and just then the rope broke and down I came."

A WAGGISH editor says that the streets of one of the Western cities are to be lighted with red headed girls. That cheap wants to bug the lamp-posts.

SIGN OF THE GILT ANCHOR!

DENVER, COLORADO,

Is not the "Largest," but the MOST ELEGANT CLOTHING HOUSE in Colorado.

And from the East and to the West
Are gentlemen dressed
In suits from Anker's Hall;
And none, as yet, was heard to regret
That he ever gave him a call.
He honestly deals,
And nothing conceals,
Regarding the wear of his clothes,
But speaks with the truth,
To man and to youth,
Which each of his customers knows
Hence, friends, one and all,
Go to Anker's Hall,
Walk boldly—don't cowardly creep
For there you'll find,
All obliging and kind,
With Clothing tremendously cheap.

The citizens of Utah, Idaho and Montana are at all times cordially invited to call at ANCHOR'S POPULAR CLOTHING HOUSE, when in Denver, and examine his most Elegant and Tasteful Stock of Goods, which will be sold at Prices Guaranteed Lower than the Lowest.
